Attendance v Attainment

We feel it is right to make a point about attendance and the clear and obvious link to a students' performance. It has always been clear that you do best when you attend school regularly. Being here everyday means you are less likely to fall behind in your learning thereby giving yourself every opportunity to succeed. We know that the quality of teaching at Beckfoot is strong and it is teaching that makes the single biggest impact on learning and exam success. You deserve the best we can provide, but that is incredibly difficult if you are not here. Below is a chart that explains the link at Beckfoot between 2019 and 2022 and we felt it worthwhile sharing with you:
